

THE STATE FAIR FORMALLY OPEN

Governor Glenn Congratulates the State on Its Era of Industrial Prosperity.

THE WADESBORO LYNCHING

Comes Up for Argument on Appeal in the Supreme Court.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALPHIGH, N. C., October 16.—The State Fair was formally opened today at noon by Governor Glenn, in which he congratulated the State on its era of great industrial prosperity that is pervading the State. He declared that the exhibits in the fair buildings are a superb demonstration of that development. The crowd here for the opening day is one of the largest in the history of the fair association. Wednesday and Thursday are always the big days, and the indications are that this year will be no exception. Weather conditions are a little unfavorable—cloudy, but not raining. The weather forecast, however, is for fair to-morrow.

An elaborate series of open-air attractions is arranged for each day. The Midway is pronounced free from very objectionable features, and is well filled. The noted Wadesboro lynching case of the State against John Lewis, for participation in the lynching of J. V. Johnson May 29th last, came up for argument today in the Supreme Court today. Walter Clark, Jr., appearing for the State in the stead of Attorney-General Glinn, who is detained out of the city. It will be remembered that in the trial before Judge Stokes, the defendant moved to quash the bill of indictment because it appeared on the face of the bill that the offense charged was committed in another county, and that there was no current for moving the indictment to try him in this county, to which the case was moved. Also the bill should be quashed because the bill charged that the defendant conspired with others without naming them, when the statement of the bill has been read to the jury, the defendant moved to quash the bill because it charged that the defendant conspired with others without naming them, when the statement of the bill has been read to the jury, the defendant moved to quash the bill because it charged that the defendant conspired with others without naming them.

The North Wadesboro Hardware Company was charged today with $2,000 capital authorized and $1,000 subscribed by J. E. Davis, A. J. Campbell and others. Another charge is to the Imperial Mattress Company, of Washington, N. C. $2,000 capital, by W. C. Jones and others.

The explosion occurred at 10 o'clock, and killed them on the spot. Cox was killed by a large block of rock which fell on him, and Bradley was killed by a large block of rock which fell on him. The explosion occurred at 10 o'clock, and killed them on the spot.

COTTON MILL MEN.
 Discuss a Plan to Organize Cotton and Knitting Mill Industries.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., October 16.—About fifty cotton mill men of North Carolina met at the northwestern hotel here at 11 o'clock in response to letters of invitation sent out from Charlotte several days ago, asking that a meeting be held with a possible view of organizing the cotton and knitting mill industries into an association.

Mr. M. H. Miller, Jr., was elected temporary chairman, and Mr. J. P. Wilson, secretary of the meeting. After some discussion of a plan of organization, the manufacturers adjourned to meet October 20th.

JEROME HINTS AT NEW SENSATIONS

Possibility of Other Indictments to Follow Revives Interest in Thaw Case.

COUNSEL HAVE SHARP WORDS

Gleason Accuses District Attorney of Taking Advantage of His Client.

NEW YORK, October 16.—There was a revival of interest today in the case of Harry K. Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, when in court District Attorney Jerome announced that there might be other indictments in the case. The statement by the District Attorney was made in the course of an argument before Recorder Gott against a writ of prohibition restraining the District Attorney's office from further preliminary action in the case. Following the hearing, Clifford W. Hartbridge, Thaw's counsel, called upon the prisoner at the Tombs. After his visit the lawyer explained that Thaw had read the evening papers, and feared from what he had read of the proceedings before Recorder Gott that an attempt might be made to indict his wife or other members of the family. Mr. Hartbridge said that he had merely called to see Thaw's mind at rest, as there was no danger that any other member of his family or any one connected with the family would be indicted.

Clash With Counsel.
 The recorder, at the request of Mr. Jerome, adjourned the proceedings until the District Attorney might obtain a formal order having the argument transferred to Justice McLean's Court where it was first heard. During the argument today, Mr. Jerome said he had been embarrassed by the temporary writ of prohibition issued by Justice McLean. "I hope you have," broke in Mr. Gleason, of Thaw's counsel, "and I hope I may be able to show the District Attorney that he is taking in secret evidence that may tend to prejudice the jury." Forty-three depositions have been taken in this case against the constitutional rights of this defendant Thaw.

Mr. Jerome leaped to his feet and said: "Not a deposition taken by the District Attorney in this case could be used against Thaw in the trial, and counsel well knows it." "That is true," said Mr. Gleason, "but these depositions are taken to entangle the conscience of the witness, and to frighten him when he appears at the trial." "None of the forty-three witnesses examined by the District Attorney," said Mr. Jerome, "are to be called by the prosecution at the trial of Harry K. Thaw, but their evidence has been taken in anticipation that the defense would call them, and to prevent their conscience being entangled by the defense."

FRANK J. GOULD AND WIFE UNITED

Husband's Sister and Other Members of Family Bring About Full Reconciliation.

AT DINNER IN HOT SPRINGS

Reunion is a Formal Announcement to Friends That Differences Are Over.

NEW YORK, October 16.—The Herald today says:

"That the reconciliation of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gould has been accomplished by Miss Helen Gould and other members of the Gould family was shown in Hot Springs, Va., last Sunday evening, when Mrs. Frank J. Gould, who had been there for a week, gave a dinner to her husband upon his arrival. As told in the Herald second day ago, contemplated final reconciliation looking to a separation of the couple was arrested through intervention of others of the Goulds.

Mr. Gould played in a tennis tournament in Hot Springs yesterday, and will remain there for a day or two before continuing his westward trip. He is going to St. Louis to attend a meeting of one of the railroad corporations in which he and other members of his family are interested.

In the pleasant Virginia hills Mrs. Gould and her two little daughters will remain, probably until after her husband has started on a trip around the world in the Helene, his steam yacht, and which, it is expected, will consume a year. Mrs. Gould will not make this trip with her husband.

After family counsel and entreaties had induced the visiting wife of the youngest of the Goulds to forego her intention of seeking a legal separation from him, and at the special instance of Miss Helen Gould the papers which lawyers had drawn up for presentation in court had been destroyed, Mrs. Gould went to Hot Springs.

Frank Gould, with one of his intimate friends, Jasper Byrne, of this city, started in the Helene for Norfolk, and decided to run up the Chesapeake and into the two duck shooting waters of the Rappahannock. They enjoyed several days of sport there and then went back to Norfolk, from which place they went by train to Hot Springs.

Mrs. Gould's friends prepared society for her public reconciliation with her husband by announcing that he would join her in the Virginia resort. In their eyes the dinner last Sunday night was Mr. Gould's brief story are proof that if there were differences between the Goulds they have all disappeared.

The attempt failed only because Wise had misjudged the space required, and his body was wedged between the steel bars.

Black and blue and exhausted from his exertions in the unique predicament, Wise was discovered by a night watchman. With difficulty he was released from his self-made trap and placed under close watch in another cell.

SUN CURED TOBACCO

The Tobacco Is Valuable

THE imitators of GRAPE are compelled to reduce quality in order to spend thousands of dollars in advertising and buying tags, or the inferior stuff wouldn't sell at all. It is not necessary to advertise GRAPE, as quality sells it. It is the only pure old Virginia sun-cured tobacco, and made at headquarters, Richmond, Va. The GRAPE tag is only valuable to guarantee full weight of the greatest sun-cured brand in the world. There is no cash prize or luring present scheme. Every chewer gets 5 cents worth of pure sun-cured chewing tobacco; not 3 cents worth of tobacco and 2 cents worth of hardware or lumber. GRAPE sells on merit. Imitations are forced on the thoughtless by a bribe.
